

No Book Is Like the Bible

Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path. Psa. 119:105

My heart standeth in awe of thy word. Psa. 119:161

1. No book is like the Bi - ble, For child - hood, youth and age;
 2. It tells of man's cre - a - tion, His sad, pri - me - val fall;
 3. Love God, our Lord and Sav - ior, Who reigns in heav'n a - bove,
 4. Oh, let us love the Bi - ble, And praise it more and more;

Our du - ty, plain and sim - ple, We find on eve - ry page.
 It tells of man's re - demp - tion Thro' Christ, who died for all;
 And bids us all re - mem - ber, Our neigh - bors we must love;
 Our life is like a shad - ow, Our days will soon be o'er;

It came by in - spir - a - tion, A light to guide our way,
 In sa - cred words of wis - dom It bids us watch and pray,
 For on these great com - mand - ments To Chris - tians here be - low
 But if we close - ly fol - low The coun - sel God has giv'n,

A voice from Him who gave it, Re - prov - ing when we stray.
 And ear - ly come to Je - sus, The Life, the Truth, the Way.
 Hang all the law and pro - phets; The Bi - ble tells us so.
 We then may hope with an - gels To sing His praise in heav'n.

D.S.— The pil - grim's chart of glo - ry, It leads to God a - bove.

Refrain
 No book is like the Bi - ble, The bless - ed book we love;

D.S. al Fine