

Pause for Nature

*Behold the fowls of the air: for they sow not... yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much better than they? Mt. 6:26-30
The invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made. Rom. 1:20*

1. Lit - tle stream - let, flow - ing on - ward, Rip - pling ev - er on and on,
2. Loft - y cloud - lets, la - zy puff - balls, Dream - ing far a - bove us all,
3. Whis - p'ring breez - es, gen - tle zeph - yrs, Rus - tling soft - ly through the trees,
4. Twit - t'ring song - bird in the branch - es, Chirp - ing blithe - ly all day long,
5. Na - ture's won - ders show us plain - ly There is One who planned it all,

Why so swift - ly do you has - ten? Why the hur - ry to be gone?
With for - ma - tions ev - er chang - ing, Mak - ing pic - tures great and tall,
Teas - ing grass - es, fan - ning leaf - lets, Breath - ing when and where you please,
Sweet thy mu - sic, sweet thy lilt - ing, How mel - o - di - ous thy song!
From the small - est in - sect buzz - ing To the great - est moun - tain tall.

Let your rip - pling, gurg - ling mu - sic Stay to soothe and com - fort me.
How ma - jes - tic and how air - y Are your trav - els through the sky!
How re - fresh - ing, how de - light - ful Is your pres - ence at this place!
Have you nev - er cares or wor - ries? Have you nev - er song - less days?
Eve - ry - where, in all cre - a - tion, God's great sig - na - ture will be;

Life is short: I'll take a mo - ment Just to lis - ten to your glee.
Life is short: I'll take a mo - ment Just to watch your show on high.
Life is short; I'll take a mo - ment Just to feel you touch my face.
Life is short; I'll take a mo - ment Just to join you in your praise.
If He cares for all of na - ture, He will sure - ly care for me.
