

Though the Fig Tree Shall Not Blossom

Although the fig tree shall not blossom, neither shall fruit be in the vines; the labour of the olive shall fail, and the fields shall yield no meat... Yet I will rejoice in the Lord, I will joy in the God of my salvation. Hab. 3:17-18

1. Though the fig tree shall not blossom, Neither fruit be in the vine:
2. Though no flocks are in the sheep-fold, Neither their cattle in the stalls:
3. Though my path lies through the valley Of the shadows, He is near,
4. Though my friends should not receive Him, Or through sin should prove untrue;

Though in vain the olive labors, And the fruitful fields decline:
Though the earth is filled with famine, And no rain from heaven falls:
For His rod and staff they comfort, And no evil I shall fear.
Though the wicked should entice me, And should persecute me, too:
